WELCOME

East Asia is vital to our global economy and rapidly changing American society. We need to understand this region more than ever to be the best possible global citizens in the 21st century. History is our starting point, for modern challenges and choices are inseparable from historical memory—the past lives in our present. This course introduces China, Japan, and Korea from ancient times to the present. Bitter enemies, best friends, imitators and innovators—the countries of East Asia have played all of these roles. We will explore how they have been connected to each other and to the world system for the past thousand years. Ethical and religious values, social hierarchy, conquests, border conflicts, imperialism, nationalism, and the search for identity will be our organizing themes as we explore the historical changes of these great civilizations.

REQUIRED TEXTS

- 1. East Asia: Identities and Change in the Modern World, 1700 to Present by R. Keith Schoppa (Prentice Hall, 2007) [hereafter: Schoppa]
- 2. Lost Names: Scenes from a Korean Boyhood by Richard E. Kim (University of California Press, 1998) [hereafter: Lost Names]

Class Attendance

To get full attendance points, you need to attend at least 24 lectures out of the total 27 class meetings. You should also complete all assigned readings before each class meeting (dates indicated on syllabus). Readings may be lighter in some weeks and heavier in others, so please plan ahead.

Book Response Essay

Your response essay should be at least 1200 words long but not exceed 1500 words (that's about 5 pages, double-spaced). The essay is your critical analysis and reaction, not a summary of the book. Try to put the book in context with the main themes of our class. Essay questions will be posted on Blackboard in advance.

In-Class Quizzes

There are four quizzes in total. Each quiz contains 8 identifications (basic terms, personalities, and events) and one short question, which will test your knowledge of the Schoppa textbook, the readings, and the lectures. Come to class prepared.

Final Exam

The final exam consists of two essay questions. A list of four potential questions will be posted on Blackboard in advance, and two questions will be picked randomly (by dice roll) on the day of the exam. You are welcome to form study groups to split up preparation for the four possible questions.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Please be familiar with the Academic Integrity Policy and adhere to its guidelines. Here is a link to the Policy: http://www.fordham.edu/Audience/handbooks.shtml#6. Plagiarism is a serious academic offense. As you write your papers, you will surely find good facts, ideas, and phrases from books, articles, and the Internet. When you use these, you must put them in quotation marks and clearly cite your source. For tips, check out guides like Gordon Harvey's Writing with Sources: A Guide for Students (Hackett, 2008).
