The Marvel Universe has provided the basis for several of the most popular movies of the past decade, including Iron Man, Thor, Captain America: The Winter Soldier, Guardians of the Galaxy, Doctor Strange, and Black Panther, as well as Netflix series about Daredevil, Jessica Jones, and Luke Cage. Are these movies and shows teaching liberalism, conservatism, socialism, anarchism, fascism, multiculturalism, or something else entirely? How does the Marvel Universe reflect our time, and how does it express utopian and dystopian visions? Why are these movies and shows popular around the world—are they modern myths?

In the first half of each class, the professor lectures on political ideologies—their histories, authors, arguments, books, and legacy. In the second half, students lead a discussion about how a figure in the Marvel Universe fits within a broader political/cultural conversation. We will watch parts of movies, Netflix shows, and discuss academic articles about the Marvel Universe and the Cold War, gender roles, patriotism, post-9/11 politics, black superheroes, and Muslim feminities and masculinities.

It is serious course about political ideologies but also a fun opportunity to talk about the Marvel Universe.

Students will write a 4500-6000 word (15-20 page) research paper on a political theme in the Marvel Universe. For the first three Mondays of the class, students will turn in a 5-page paper on a political theme in the Marvel Universe (women’s rights, animal rights, economic justice, the individual versus the community, toleration, nuclear power, religion, etc.). The papers should discuss a Marvel movie, three reviews, and two academic articles. Then, the final paper will add an introduction, a conclusion, and edits based on feedback from the professor. See appendix for a template.

Article presentation: Each student is responsible for presenting a 20 minute Powerpoint on an academic article or book chapter that describes:
- The authors of the article
- The background to the article.
- The argument of the article
- How it illustrates political theory in popular culture.
- Your thoughts.

Summarize the Plot:

What are the politics of the issue, broadly construed? You can focus on one issue (feminism, Cold War politics, masculinity, environmentalism, race, etc). or several.

How does it reflect its era?

Other thoughts, e.g. about why the character is popular, why it had or has to change, how it is distinctly American, or not; etc.
Research Paper Structure

Title that indicates topic and thesis

I. Introduction
   1. Hook: Tell an interesting story and then raise a provocative question, i.e. Is the Marvel University feminist? Are the X-Men communists? Is the Marvel Universe ahead of or behind the curve of transgender awareness? Does the Marvel Universe maintain old-fashioned views of masculinity and is that a problem? Etc.
   2. Map: Explain how you will answer the question by examining three Marvel movies. Say why these movies are the right ones to answer your question.

II. Theme X in Marvel Movie 1
   - Answer the big question
   - Explain the plot of the movie
   - Cite 3 reviews and 2 academic articles or book chapters. The academic sources may be on the movie or the political issue, e.g. feminism.
   - Consider the evidence in the movie that could support answering the question the other way. Complexity makes the paper better.
   - The last few paragraphs can discuss your view on whether the movie is good or bad on the political issue.

III. Theme X in Marvel Movie 2

IV. Theme X in Marvel Movie 3

V. Conclusion
Articulate your own informed perspective. Answer the question that you raised in the introduction. And then share your thoughts about whether the Marvel movies are a force for good or bad, how they should be different going forward, etc. In general, the best way to articulate your own perspective is to contrast it with those of other smart people in the conversation. So if your paper is on how the Marvel Universe handles racism, engage with other people who have written on the topic and explain how you agree and disagree with them.
